Calder Salisbury

cksalisbury@dons.usfca.edu
(858) 442-9333 · San Francisco, CA
Psychology, University of San Francisco · Class of 2027 · Client Service & Research linkedin.com/in/calder-salisbury-94518a334

SUMMARY

Results-oriented, resilient psychology major (3.71 GPA, Dean's List, Psi Chi) graduating May 2027, with four-plus years of client-facing and sales-support work held alongside a full course load. Experienced in researching a client's industry and market context, synthesizing findings into clear recommendations, and writing persuasive proposals that help win and keep corporate accounts. Calm under pressure, comfortable screening and negotiating by phone with vendors and clients, and quick to adopt new software, including AI-assisted research and writing tools. Seeking the Associate, Client Service role to source and screen the right experts and deliver results on parallel client projects.

EDUCATION

University of San Francisco | Bachelor of Arts, Psychology; UX/UI coursework — Expected May 2027

GPA 3.71 · Dean's List 2023–2024, 2026 · Psi Chi Psychology Honor Society · Academic & Art Achievement Scholarships

Relevant coursework: Research Methods, Writing in Psychology (literature review), Psychopathology, Forensic Psychology; AP Macroeconomics, AP Government

EXPERIENCE

Susan Street Fine Art | Gallery Associate — Cardiff, CA · July 2020 – Present

- Research each prospective client's industry, brand, and market context, then source and vet artists and works that fit; distill findings into recommendations clients use to make purchase and placement decisions.
- Support gallery sales by writing and designing persuasive proposals and PowerPoint presentations for corporate accounts, including California Bank & Trust, from first pitch through close.
- Manage multiple concurrent client projects from initiation through installation; screen and negotiate with vendors, framers, and installers by phone and email on scope, timelines, and pricing.
- Serve as the client's point of contact during on-site installations, resolving questions and logistics in real time so projects finish on schedule.
- Use AI-assisted research and writing tools alongside Excel to speed up artist sourcing, comparable-work research, and proposal drafting; run the gallery's Instagram content strategy.

Kiddleton, Japan Center Mall | Operations Staff Member — San Francisco, CA · October 2025 – Present

- Handle a high volume of customer inquiries and service issues, by phone and in person, in a busy retail environment; de-escalate calmly and resolve issues on the first contact.
- Own daily cash reconciliation across three locations, including deposits, checks, and end-of-day counts, with accurate Excel financial tracking.
- Compile and submit documentation and visual reports to headquarters through online reporting tools, consistently meeting submission deadlines.

Target | Beauty Team Member — Encinitas, CA · July 2021 – September 2022

- Drove beauty department sales by advising customers on product selection and resolving service issues, while maintaining department standards and compliance.

LEADERSHIP & EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Encinitas Friends of the Arts | Event Coordinator — Encinitas, CA · May 2022, May 2023

- Coordinated logistics for public art and cultural events: screened and scheduled participants and vendors by phone, ran on-site organization, and supported initiatives elevating art, education, and Hispanic culture.
- Volunteer: Helen Woodward Animal Center, adoption fundraising (2024) · Labs and More, adoption events (2019)

SKILLS

Client communication & phone screening · Negotiation with vendors & clients · Industry & market research · Synthesis & persuasive writing · Sales support & proposals · Parallel projects to deadline · Resilient under pressure · AI-assisted research & writing tools · Excel · PowerPoint · Word · Outlook · Adobe Photoshop & Illustrator · American Sign Language (professional)

INTERESTS

Digital and traditional art · Graphic design · Mental health education · Fashion and style